→ RECreate mixed by Andy Ling

The Atmospherex RECreate CD mix features over sixty minutes of some of the finest progressive house and trance tracks compiled and continuously mixed by UK DJ producer Andy Ling of Fluid Recordings. Andy warms up the decks with deep and moody progressive house tracks that escalate into an electrifying ride through atmospheric melodies and floor-stomping beats. Andy lays down deep grooves laced with hypnotic, trance-inducing vocals in Tarantella's "Karma" and then brings the mix to a spine-tingling climax when he drops the stunning Evolution remix of Salt Tank's "The Energy". Drifting back down from overdrive, Andy leaves us bumping to the rolling house beats of Brother Brown's remix of Flimpalast's "I Want" in a funk-infused finale.

The RECreate live DJ mix was produced in Fluid Recordings' Parachute Studios in Manchester, England, with the help of the legendary Evolution production team. The music for this CD was mixed exclusively by Andy Ling for Atmospherex to be featured on the RECreate DVD, to be released separately this Spring. The RECreate DVD features incredible 3D animation by some of the world's best VJs, including Bionic Dots and Exotic Robotics, fully synchronized to the beat of Andy's fierce mix. The RECreate mix will induce a dream-like state while keeping you grooving to the heart-pounding rhythms and sub-bass frequencies masterfully woven together by veteran DJ Andy Ling.

Andy Ling's first single, the legendary "Calling Angels", first caught the attention of leading DJs from around the globe, including Sasha, who supported the track on his first Northern Exposure US tour. Andy's extensive discography includes remixes of tracks by the Shamen, Crystal Method, Mombassa, and Isha D to name a few. Andy's remix of Deepsky's "Stargazer" and his own release on Hooj Choons, "Fixation", continue to pack dance floors from Cream in Liverpool to Zouk Club in Hong Kong. His latest single on Fluid Records, "Futura", has taken over clubs around the world and is currently topping the dance charts. Since the illustrious launch of his career, Andy Ling has been on tour DJ-ing around the world, and this year he will be in Finland, Australia, and Ibiza, to name a few. Andy's potential for future success is only outmatched by his raw talent and ambition as a DJ and producer.
